EXPERIENCE

The Bolt Cutter Design team has 25+ years of combined graphic and visual arts experience.

Our two man team began Bolt Cutter Design in 2000, primarily as a print graphics design house. In 2003 we took the plunge and expanded into the "New Media" establishing a web design studio. We use free-lancers and outside contractors as the project requires. We are proficient in HTML, DHTML, XHTML, and CSS. We are moderately proficient in Java-script and are actively engaged in learning XML and its sub-languages.

The new media of the "electronic age" provides powerful tools for the visual artist to capture life in this age. The art of collage is a natural for this media. At Bolt Cutter we are constantly growing and learning, trying new approaches, and using new tools from this electronic toolbox, while maintaining a fidelity to traditional art techniques, and sound design principles. We are available on a contractual or freelance basis. If you have an idea that simply cannot be completely conveyed in words, let us illustrate that idea for you.
